PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Tuesday, November 2, 1954, is General Election Day for most of the States of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the privilege of voting is a great privilege that many peoples of the world do not have; and

WHEREAS, We citizens of the United States of America and of the State of South Dakota do have this privilege which has been bought at the high price of sacrifices of Americans who have given their lives and energies toward the end that America might be a free country; and

WHEREAS, it is a mark of a good citizen and a good American to go to the polls and vote on Election Day:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Sigurd Anderson, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, November 2, 1954, as in South Dakota and I do hereby urge that all citizens of the State of South Dakota who are qualified and eligible to vote to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 2, 1954, and cast their ballot.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 1st day of November, 1954

. . . . . Sigurd Anderson . . . . . .
Governor
